Analyze, Evaluate and Set Pricing for Your Business

Have you ever wondered how you can command top dollar for your business? How can determine what your products and services are really worth and then be able to charge (and get) those prices? Creating a perception of value is central to establishing and adhering to a pricing strategy that works. Learn how to determine the “going rate”, position your products and services as the highest value among your competition and create a backlog of potential customers/clients who are willing to pay what you’re really worth. Pricing needs to be strategically developed as opposed to setting prices to meet the vagaries of competitive influences. In this seminar, we’ll learn how to determine your fully loaded costs so you don’t “give away the store” or sell yourself short of profitability, then we’ll examine what the competitive rates are and how to position your business as the greatest VALUE at a profitable price point. This workshop is loaded with practical, hands-on tips and techniques.

Copyrights, Trademarks, Patents

Which kind of protection do you need for your innovation? Or do you need it at all? What should you do if someone challenges your right to produce a product or use a name or phrase? These are just a few of the questions that will be addressed during this workshop on Intellectual Property. And we guarantee that you will NOT be overwhelmed by “legalese”. Ms. Patrick presents the concepts of Intellectual Property from a practical business perspective that will help you decide on the best course of action for you and your business.

Easy Steps on Complying with Small Business Taxes

Make a point to attend this workshop, conducted by employees of the New Jersey Division of Taxation to understand tax obligations for your small business. A significant amount of information is covered including: how to register your business in New Jersey, tax consequences of each form of business ownership, employer responsibilities, reporting business income, estimated tax payments, what goods and services are subject to sales tax and filing sales and use returns.
